Changing Musqueam Elections:

Musqueam Elections

- Previous System: Indian Act
- For next election: First Nations Election Act (FNEA)

Previous C&C Election System

- Prescribed by the Indian Act
- Widely criticized
 - o Research and experience show it does not support good governance
- Leaves final decisions in the hands of the Federal INAC Minister (as opposed to courts)
- Loopholes raise concerns about election irregularities and fraud

Community Issues with Indian Act Elections

- Two year terms of office do not allow enough time to accomplish priorities
- The nomination process is unstructured and confusing
- Mail-in ballot system is open to abuse
- Election appeals system is slow and inefficient

What's changing?

- New system for the next election
- C&C approved in December
- Information Sharing to prepare community
- Next election on November 30, 2016 will elect a Chief and Council to serve a four-year term
- Election processes to begin in September (voter list preparation; nomination in October)

First Nations Elections Act 2014

- A federal law to create an alternative to Indian Act elections
- Purpose: offer a better system that is easy to adopt
- Designed with First Nations input and recommendations
- Regulations created in 2015 fixed previous issues

What about Musqueam's Custom Election Code?

- Community codes are ideal
- Musqueam's Custom Election Code is in progress, but needs more time
- First Nations Election Act lets us switch to our code when it's ready
- Process:
- When Musqueam's Election Code is ready, notify Canada that we want to use it instead of the FNEA

Comparing Election Systems: Indian Act vs. First Nations Elections Act

	Indian Act	First Nations Elections Act
Term of office	2 years	4 years
Electoral Officers	The electoral officer is appointed by the First Nation council with the approval of the Minister.	Electoral officers must be certified through a training program. The electoral officer is appointed by Council and the Minister's approval of the appointment is no longer required.
Election Period	Minimum of 79 days	Minimum of 65 days
Qualifications to nominate, and be, a candidates for Chief and Councillor	Only candidates nominated for councillor positions must be a member of the First Nation and be at least 18 years of age on the day of the nomination meeting.	Candidates nominated for any position must be Musqueam members and be at least 18 years of age on the day of the nomination meeting. Candidates may only run for one position: Councillor or Chief.
Rules and procedures for the nomination of candidates	An elector can nominate a candidate in writing prior to the nomination meeting or orally at the meeting. Persons nominated automatically become candidates and their names are placed on the ballot unless they withdraw in writing.	An elector can nominate a candidate in writing prior to the nomination meeting or orally at the meeting. A person cannot nominate more candidates than there are positions to be filled in the election. A fee of $100 is required for each candidate, to be refunded if the candidate receives more than 5 per cent of the total votes cast. Persons nominated must submit a written declaration and acceptance of nomination, and refundable candidacy fee, or their name will not appear on the ballot.

Costs	INAC funded	The First Nation pays for the cost of holding the election.
Mail-in ballots	The electoral officer sends a mail-in ballot to all off-reserve electors whose addresses appear on the list provided by the First Nation. The electoral officer will also respond to specific requests for a mail-in ballot and can do so until polling day.	Electors wishing to vote by mail-in ballot must provide a written request to the electoral officer along with a photocopy of an identification document. The electoral officer will send mail-in ballot packages to all those electors whose request is received on or before the 6th day before the election. After this time, no mail-in ballots will be given out and the elector will have to vote in person either at an advance poll or at the polling station on election day.
Polls	No provision	The electoral officer may hold advance polls between the 10th and 5th days before the election, on and off reserve.
Recount	No provision	If the margin of votes between a winning candidate and one or more runners-up is five or fewer, the electoral officer must recount the ballots for these candidates.
Offences and Penalties	None	Prohibits corrupt activities such as offering and accepting bribes, purchasing and selling mail-in ballots, obstructing the electoral process and breaching the secrecy of the vote. Persons who breach these prohibitions are guilty of an offence that is punishable by fines and up to five years in prison. Elected officials convicted of any of these offences are removed from office and candidates convicted of certain offences are not eligible to run again for five years. The offence and penalty provisions are very similar to those found in the Canada Elections Act .

Removal from Office	A person ceases to hold office when they die, resign or are convicted of an indictable offence. or When the Minister removes them for having committed corrupt practices in connection with an election or for having missed three consecutive meetings of the council without authorization.	A person ceases to hold office when they die, resign or are convicted of an offence – however, the conviction must be accompanied by a prison sentence greater than 30 consecutive days for the person to lose their position. No ministerial powers to remove elected officials.
Appeals	Directed to the Minister who may conduct an investigation and report findings to the Governor in Council. The Governor in Council may set aside the election on the report of the Minister.	Directed to provincial or federal courts, which can, after hearing the facts, set aside an election.

LANGARA CARVING PROGRAM

During the fall of 2016 and spring of 2017 Langara's Aboriginal Studies Department, in partnership with our Fine Arts Department, is offering a unique Aboriginal carving program which is open to all students.

Students in the program will complete two carving courses and an applied research course, all for-credit classes.

You don't need to be a carver already, and our students will be engaged in learning:

- issues of social justice and cultural appropriation
- develop art based on personal culture
- learn safe and effective tool use
- tool sharpening and care
- make or modify several tools for you to keep

Under the supervision of Coast Salish artist Aaron Nelson-Moody students will collaborate on the creation of two reconciliation house boards. Once complete, the house boards will become part of a planned outdoor Aboriginal space on Langara's campus.

Langara Film Arts students will document the carving process and students thoughts about the Reconciliation process.

Courses included in the Aboriginal Reconciliation Carving Cohort program are:

- Classes Fridays all day this September are:
- Aboriginal Studies 2100 Applied Community
- Research (Fall 2016)
- Fine Arts 1195 West Coast Carving Special Topics (Fall 2016)

Class times to be announced in Spring:

- Fine Arts 2295 Advanced West Coast Carving
- Studio (Spring 2017)

For more information:

http://langara.ca/programs-and-courses/programs/aboriginal-studies/reconciliation-carving-program.html

Some tuition scholarships may be offered to eligible students, so please enquire.

How to Apply

1. Interested students email Justin Wilson or Aaron Nelson-Moody explaining their interest in the Truth and Reconciliation process, and in the carving of two house boards for Langara College.

- 2. Use current Langara College student number, or register for a new one
- 3. Apply for Reconciliation Carving program financial award
- 4. with your Langara student number, email request two overrides, one for ABST2100 from Justin Wilson, and second override request from Aaron Nelson-Moody for FINA1195.

Safe Drinking Water Monitor Program

- Charlene Campbell-Wood

Water Monitoring

Water quality monitoring takes place throughout the system for a number of reasons. Use of accredited laboratories better ensures sampling test results are accurate.

Source water monitoring provides useful information on the water supply when selecting a source for drinking water. Data collected also influences the design of the treatment solution as it helps determine what type of treatment is needed. Once treatment is in place, on-going monitoring at the intake allows plant operators to modify treatment if water quality fluctuates. Monitoring in other parts of the treatment plant ensures treatment is working properly and that water leaving the plant is safe for human consumption. Compliance monitoring in the distribution system ensures any problems that arise can be dealt with as quickly and efficiently as possible, thus ensuring that water reaching consumers is clean, safe and reliable.

Why I Design 2016

Friday, November 4, 2016 - 19:00

Designers! Drinks! Discussion!

Designers talk about what they do and why they're doing it in Vancouver.

You are invited to explore and celebrate innovation in action. Dozens of designers, stationed throughout the museum, discuss their work with you during this special evening. There's a lot to explore as you navigate a party that's dense with designers.

Discover the stories behind the development of everyday technologies and cool things you've never seen before. Ask the designers—ranging from those launching their careers to innovators in international corporations—what motivates them, how they do what they do, and why Vancouver inspires them to keep doing it. + Cash bar!

Date:

Friday, November 4.

Tickets:

Adults: $ 18.00 in advance, $ 20.00 at the door;

Members/Students: $15.00 in advance, $17.00 at the door.

August 11, 2016 - New Talks and Lectures + Mid-Century Landscapes

August 11, 2016

Hi Leona,

We're pretty sure it's still summer, even if the weather recently has been less than convincing. But all us West Coasters don't let the weather get us down! There's still lots of great neighbourhoods to walk and heritage to explore. Read on for what's coming up this month, plus some new fall listings if all those grey skies have you thinking about the changing seasons.

NEW! Fall Talks and Lectures now online

Our fall session of Brown Bag Lunch & Learn talks and Evening Lectures at Hycroft are now up on the website. Starting in September we are offering six new talks and lectures on fascinating topics.

Brown Bag talks bring heritage professionals and experts in to talk about current heritage projects in the city. This fall Don Luxton speaks about the restoration and upgrading of the Burrard Bridge while Ian Birtwell from Christ Church Cathedral updates us on the 20-year process of rejuvenating one of Vancouver's oldest sacred sites.

Select Wednesdays, 12pm
BCIT Downtown, 555 Seymour St
Register Here $15 or $9 with valid student ID

Evening Lectures will look at our city's history with illustrated lectures on our city's first Archivist, Major Matthews, the early days of Chinatown and the legacy of the 1954 British Empire and Commonwealth Games.

Select Tuesdays, 7:30pm University Women's Club at Hycroft, 1498 McRae Ave

Register Here $15 or $9 with valid student ID

Old School Courses and Workshops are also up on the website.

Mid-Century Modern House Tour:

Landscapes

...the Dr. Sun Yat-Sen Classical Chinese Garden was the first authentic Suzhou-style classical garden to be built outside of China? Modeled after private gardens of the Ming Dynasty, the garden was built by 52 Chinese artisans using tools and techniques similar to those used centuries ago. Suzhou-style originates from the city of Suzhou, known for its beautiful classical gardens, nine of which are recognized world heritage sites. The gardens are all meant to be a microcosm of nature with carefully placed rocks, trees, shrubs and pools of water creating compact, but exquisite, vistas.

-The Greater Vancouver Book. Chuck Davis. 1997.

While Mid-Century Modernism is often associated with eggshaped floating fireplaces and Eames chairs, there is an important aspect of Mid-Century design that is often only seen in well preserved architecture. The landscaping that came with Mid-Century Modern and West Coast Modern homes was typically as important as the home itself. With special attention paid to the relationship between the home and the garden, the outdoor space was an extension of the thoughtful design on the inside.

On the 2016 Mid-Century Modern House Tour we have wonderful examples of not only great architecture but great landscaping. Originally designed by Landscape Architect Cornelia Hahn Oberlander, the gardens of the Friedman Residence are being lovingly and carefully returned to their original splendor and Cornelia's vision which made the most of the unique pieshaped lot. A 1986 Bing Thom-designed home also highlights a connection to the outdoors with most of the home's glazing surrounding a courtyard and back garden. The gardens also feature heritage rhododendrons and a specially grafted Maple with three varieties of foliage growing on one tree.

Join us to witness this special relationship between home and garden on the tour! Don't forget, there are a limited number of tickets available to this event.

many of the city's notables and prominent citizens including Major Matthews, Joe
Fortes and several mayors.
We'll visit the graves of a few of the men and women whose lives contributed to Vancouver's history, and whose presence remains remarkable even after death.

Grandview: Places of Worship

This vibrant neighbourhood has always been dotted with places of worship. Some remain while some have changed hands, or are in transition. This religious microcosm reflects what is transpiring across the city with similar heritage properties: new uses, new cultural groups and development. Come explore at least five very different sites that are at various stages of their historical course.

FREE West Hastings Walking Tours

Thanks to a partnership with the Downtown Vancouver Business Improvement Association we are able to offer short 45-minute lunch time walking tours with John Atkin. The walks begin at The Perch, Lot 19 on West Hastings Street (at Hornby Street). Registration for each day's tour will be held at the meeting point beginning at 12 noon, rain or shine.

The tours will focus on the architectural and historical context of the many significant heritage buildings on West Hastings Street. Each walk explores a slightly different section of the street.

August 19 and 26
The Perch, Lot 19 (W. Hastings St. at Hornby St.)
