What is a drinking water advisory?

Drinking water advisories are preventive measures to protect public health from waterborne contaminants that could be, or are known to be, present in drinking water. They include boil water advisories and "do not drink" advisories.

1. Boil water advisories are a way to advise the public that they should boil their tap water for drinking and for other uses, such as brushing teeth.
2. Do not drink advisories are a way to advise the public that they should use an alternative source of drinking water, like bottled water, for drinking and for other uses.

It should be noted that boil water orders, issued under provincial legislation, are common across Canada in small and remote communities.

Connection

"Learning is experience.
Everything else is just information."

- Albert Einstein

At the Museum of Vancouver, we understand that all knowledge is connected, but that the fun in learning is in making the connections. The Museum is not just a place with objects to admire on a rainy day (lots ahead), MOV is a unique institution where you can meet like-minded people, or have debates about ideas you might not agree with. Either way, we want you to discover something new and enjoy your experience!

There are all sorts of interesting events happening this month, including presentations by passionate collectors and Musqueam community members. To We've also decided to stay open late on Friday and Saturday nights (until 9pm). Come check out our newly restocked gift shop with lots of great items from local artisans. And for all those students out there, welcome back to school! Remember, we offer a discounted admission for visitors with student IDs.

Me and my collection: Imogene Lim and Harold Steves' Passion for Chinese Menus and Seeds

Join us for diverse discussion featuring two of All Together Now's passionate collectors.

Imogene Lim's menu collection reflects as much about Vancouver's community as it does about the Chinese food of the time. Imogene will present her perspective on collecting Chinese restaurant menus, a hobby that turned into a passion after inheriting a modest menu collection from her father and uncle. Imogene's talk will focus on menus acquired from once cherished local restaurants that are now extinct including WK Gardens, Yen Lock and Ho Inn. Harold Steves is a vegetable seed collector. Obtaining seeds from Canadian seed companies and from the Seed Savers Exchange, Harold's collection contributes to a network of growers who collect, save and share seeds. [More info]
