What: ArrowMight

About ArrowMight:

At ArrowMight Learning for Life, we know that academic struggles are often symptomatic of overwhelming personal challenges. That is why our Learning for Life literacy program is designed to develop skills and build self-confidence.

The ArrowMight program forms a human connection—a mutual friendship between onscreen teachers and adult learners. Humble, respectful and warm, the TeleTeachers present curriculum content through conversation. A student voice asks questions, contributes knowledge from his own life experiences, and shares his worries and insecurities. As a result, lessons unfold in a smooth-flowing, culturally-sensitive dialogue to which people at home can relate.

Captivated, motivated and encouraged, students gain a deeper appreciation of their cultures, learn valuable skills, and begin to recognize the many rewarding life opportunities open to them. They are supported in their learning by community-based Facilitators who offer encouragement and mentorship, and add a critical human component to the multimedia program.

SAFE DRINKING WATER MONITORING PROGRAM

Charlene Campbell-Wood

Health
Canada Santé
Canada

Who checks bottled water?

As part of its enforcement role, the Canadian Food Inspection Agency can inspect bottled water products, labels and establishments (conveyances, equipment etc.) involved in the sale, manufacture and distribution of bottled water. In addition, some provincial and municipal ministries and agencies may inspect bottled water.

Is bottled water regulated differently than tap water?

Yes. While bottled water is regulated federally as a food (see Question 2), the tap water distributed by municipalities is regulated by the appropriate province or territory. However, Health Canada is involved in the development of the Guidelines for Canadian Drinking Water Quality. These Guidelines are developed through the Federal-Provincial-Territorial Committee on Drinking Water which includes members from the provinces, territories and Health Canada's Healthy Environment and Consumer Safety Branch. They contain guidelines for microbiological, chemical, physical and radiological contaminants. For each contaminant, the Guidelines establish the maximum acceptable concentration of the substance that can be permitted in water used for drinking. They are used by the provinces and territories as the basis for their own drinking water standards.

More information on the Guidelines for Canadian Drinking Water Quality.

Manager, Indigenous Relations

YVR is made up of a team of diverse people who are working collaboratively to reach our goal of 25 million passengers by 2020! Safety is at the core of everything we do; we're innovative, fun, and we invest in our people. We're a BC Top Employer for 11 years standing, with high engagement scores, an abundance of learning and development opportunities, and a holistic approach to wellness! And we're looking for someone to join our team.

We have a full-time opportunity for a Manager, Indigenous Relations. Reporting to the Vice President, Marketing and Communications, the successful candidate will serve as the relationship manager between Vancouver Airport Authority and Musqueam to facilitate implementation of the Musqueam Indian Band – YVR Airport Sustainability & Friendship Agreement and effective ongoing communication between the Authority and Musqueam. The Manager will also lead the implementation of the Airport Authority Indigenous Peoples Engagement, in collaboration with numerous departments throughout the organization.

The salary wage grade for this position is: $73,617 to $101,310 plus a 15% target incentive and a competitive RRSP and benefits package.

Key responsibilities include:

- Facilitating the implementation of all aspects of the Agreement including coordinating activities related to culture, environment and sustainability and the engagement process.
- Organizing the activities of and participating in a Relationship Committee, comprised of two senior representatives from the Authority and two senior representatives from Musqueam.
- Coordinating meetings between Musqueam and Authority representatives to facilitate the exchange of information regarding existing and proposed operations of the Airport and impacts on Musqueam interests.
- In collaboration with Musqueam's Employment & Training department, building a team of cultural ambassadors comprised of Musqueam Members.
- Leading, coaching and developing, addressing employee issues, and conducting formal evaluations and imposing discipline when appropriate.
- In collaboration with Supply Management, identifying contracting opportunities that may be of interest to qualified Musqueam Businesses, communicating those opportunities to Musqueam, and acting as a liaison between the Authority and Musqueam.
- In collaboration with Human Resources, identify specific training or employment opportunities at the Airport that are available for qualified Musqueam Members, communicating those opportunities to Musqueam and its Members, and acting as a liaison between the Authority, Musqueam and its Members. Specifically:
 - Collaborating with Musqueam to develop and implement an apprenticeship program for Musqueam Members, and monitoring the progress of candidates throughout the program.
 - Collaborating with Musqueam to create a program to develop Musqueam Members employed by the Airport Authority and readying them for career growth. This may include training and development programs, job shadowing opportunities, and developmental assignments.
 - Collaborating with internal departments that manage large labour contracts in cleaning, customer care, and security, to facilitate employment opportunities for qualified Musqueam Members.

- Collaborating with Musqueam in the development and administration of a scholarship program that provides for ten scholarships per year for Musqueam Members to attend a recognized educational institution or training program, including trade preparation programs, as determined by Musqueam.
- Monitoring, encouraging and facilitating Musqueam's participation in other Airport committees where Musqueam has a representative.
- Assisting in developing and implementing the Authority's strategy for engagement with Indigenous peoples including Musqueam.

Key qualifications include:

- Thorough understanding of Musqueam including values, vision and aspirations.
- Ability to work with Chief and Council, senior personnel in Musqueam Administration and community members to develop broad support and deliver initiatives.
- At least five years' experience in the field of Aboriginal or community relations supplemented by education and work experience. An undergraduate degree in Communications, Business, or other related discipline would be an asset but not required.
- Strong leadership ability with open-minded, fair, well-honed listening and interpersonal skills.
- Experience and ability to build and maintain cooperative and productive relationships and effectively liaise with internal and external stakeholders.
- Experience in managing budgets and related financial resources would be an asset.
- Creative problem-solver with the ability to act decisively.
- Demonstrated excellent verbal and written communications and presentation skills.
- Well organized and able to keep numerous short and long term objectives clearly in perspective.
- Ability to advance problems towards resolution, despite ambiguity or uncertainty.

This position is open to Musqueam Indian Band Members. Previous job performance will be taken into consideration for all candidates that apply for this position. As part of our recruitment process, short-listed candidates will be required to take part in a management assessment process.

If you have any questions about this position please contact Gwen Diemen at 604.303.3116. If you require support applying online because you are a person with a disability, please contact Gwen. We welcome the opportunity to discuss accommodation of your disability and ensure fairness in our hiring process.

November 1, 2017 - An engaging and intriguing month of history ahead

November 1, 2017

This November we have a month full of opportunities to explore, experience and engage with heritage. With topics ranging from music legacies to the cultural history of South Asian, First Nations and Chinese communities respectively, there are many new things to learn. If you are interested in acquiring a new skill, be sure to check out our November Old School listings to gain practical experience in conservation practices.

In This Issue

- Evening Lectures: Kitsilano Reserve
- Vancouver By Night Bus Tour
- Perspectives at the Lookout: Vancouver After Dark & New Date for Cultural Landscapes
- Old School: November Courses
- Chinatown & Dim Sum

November is also a good time to be thinking about winterizing and annual maintenance. We are strong believers in the benefits of annual maintenance and will once again be featuring tips and tricks later in the month.

Evening Lectures: Kitsilano Indian Reserve: Contact to Today

The Squamish Indian Reserve Kitsilano No. 6 amounted to 80 acres at the mouth of False Creek. It included the age-old Coast Salish village site of Senákw. In

2017 Annual Campaign

Once a year we make a request for the support of generous donors through our annual campaign. While we fundraise throughout the year, this is our one direct ask for support in continuing to offer a wide range of educational programming, resources and grants that encourage the conservation of our city's heritage sites and buildings. If you have donated before, thank you, and you should receive a fundraising package in the mail shortly.

You can also contribute easily through our website. All donations over $20 will receive a charitable tax receipt.

2002, a unanimous five-judge panel upheld a trial court decision that approximately 10.5 acres of the former Kitsilano reserve, which had since disappeared from the maps of the region, should again be Indian reserve. What happened to this reserve between 1876 and 2002? And what about the other 70 acres, most of which are now Vanier Park, the Molson Brewery site, city streets, or office and apartment buildings? This talk by Douglas Harris, the Nathan T. Nemetz Chair in Legal History at UBC, explores the history of the Kitsilano Indian Reserve and the changing legal framework that surrounds what might come next for this important parcel of land.

New Price! Perspectives - Talks & Discussions at the Vancouver Lookout

The final two opportunities to explore heritage from a new vantage point are coming up in November. On the 16th, author Aaron Chapman investigates Vancouver's entertainment history including stories from a few landmark venues. There is also a new date and time for Cultural Landscapes with Naveen Girn, Paneet Singh and Milan Singh. This young and engaging trio offer their unique and varied perspective, from community engagement to communications to film and theatre, on Vancouver's South Asian history.

Heather Street Lands Open House

There will be an open house on November 2nd to present information on the Heather Street Lands. This parcel of land is now owned through a partnership between Canada Lands Company and the Musqueam, Squamish and Tsleil-Waututh Nations. The site includes a Heritage 'A' former RCMP building.

Vancouver After Dark: History of the Entertainment Scene

Thursday, November 16

6:15pm - 8pm

Downtown Vancouver was home to legendary nightclubs throughout much of the last century where, thanks to Vancouver's geographic location, many performers would kick off tours. Today, most of the theatres of Granville Street are gone, and only a few legendary nightspots remain. How did some of Vancouver's clubs remain, and others simply disappear? Is the city's "Granville Entertainment District" really the answer? Join us to explore the history and future of Vancouver's music scene.

Cultural Landscapes: Vancouver's South Asian Community

NEW date and time! Sunday, November 26

11am - 12:30pm

Migrants over the past 100 years have worked to create belonging and thread their lives into the story of Vancouver. From the epic tale of the Komagata Maru to clandestine freedom movements, from the fight for civil rights to the living legacy of trauma and displacement, the presenters will use their varied experience and perspectives to illuminate South Asian stories and intercultural relationships.

NEW LOWER PRICE! Each talk is $17.50 and includes entry to the Lookout.

A cash bar will be available on November 16th and coffee and chai will be offered at no charge on November 26th
